"MARY GARDEN" PERFUME

If Mary Garden thinks a perfume good enough to bear her name, it must be something special, for she insists on being "just a little different" in her selections.

"Parfum, Mary Garden," is something characteristic which recalls a dozen delightful olfactory sensations and incarnates the personality of the admirable artiste herself.

THE SOLO

All Other Pianos Bec

This is not advertising enthusiasm, but a statement of fact, and which it is of the utmost importance to have demonstrated.

This is why: Imagine that one gives all his attention to playing the accompaniment of supreme ability, devotes all his soul to the melody, accentuating every note, full, rich, and melodious. That is exactly what the Solo Apollo piano is. The instrument mechanically constructed to play the note that appears in any composition, or in any piece of music, is because the Solo Apollo has two entirely different actions, one of which strikes only the melody and the notes of the accompaniment. The action of the Solo Apollo is regulated to definitely and positively of the melody.

In addition to the double pneumatics, the Solo Apollo has a direct downward stroke in the action of the fingers of the pianist would strike and thus take the action which is the development of a century of perfecting.

The buying of a piano is such a large investment in a lifetime is of such great importance, that we would like to see you in our Store and allow us to demonstrate the Solo Apollo piano.

The Solo Apollo can be seen only in New York

In the Presence of

THE SOLO APOLLO

All Other Pianos Become Archaic

This is not advertising enthusiasm. It is a fact, easy of demonstration, and which it is of the utmost importance to every piano purchaser to have demonstrated.

This is why: Imagine that one artist, with a soft, precise touch, gives all his attention to playing the accompaniment; and another artist, of supreme ability, devotes all his soul and skill to the rendition of the melody, accentuating every note, full, rich and strong, above the accompaniment. That is exactly what the Solo Apollo does, and it is the only instrument mechanically constructed to positively accentuate every melody note that appears in any composition, or any part of the keyboard. This is because the Solo Apollo has two entirely separate sets of pneumatics, one of which strikes only the melody notes, and the other strikes only the notes of the accompaniment. Thus the air pressure of the pneumatics is regulated to definitely and positively accentuate all of the notes of the melody.

In addition to the double pneumatics, the Solo Apollo controls the only system which gives the direct downward stroke in striking the keys. It strikes just as the fingers of the pianist would strike and thus takes advantage of the balance of the keys, which is the development of a century of perfection by piano makers.

The buying of a piano is such a large investment, and the enjoyment of it for a lifetime is of such great importance, that we ask you to come to the Gimbel Piano Store and allow us to demonstrate the Solo Apollo for you before making your decision.

The Human Mind

when considering any specific subject, is apt to connect some famous name with it. This habit is especially marked when applied to musical matters. Thus a Symphony immediately suggests the name of Beethoven, an Opera the name of Wagner, a Rhapsody the name of Liszt; and a Piano unconsciously suggests the name of Steinway. Hence these appellations are almost synonymous.
